Writer's talk. Hand puppets, dragons, I wanted to do a comic a very long time ago. My sister said

My sister said make it about hand puppets beating up a dragon. Like the fool I am, I did it and without .

much thought. I did one page, it looked pretty nice (even has a stuffed Piro). I didn't do anymore for a long time, didn't care for the concept. After a while I disliked it and felt obligated to do it. I did 2 more pages, chan) and somehow convinced me to do it. With my heart not in the right place and fear of physical harm left and I said I'd finish it, but without here watching more time went by. In February I kept my promise and finished (even though I was overrun by school work). This time I did right, with planning (especially the last 4 pages). So, I'm sorry for the delay and sloppiness of most of it, but I hope it's still enjoyable. Thank you.

P.S. Sorry the cover's not in color, it won't come up in the issue. [Not the printed version that you get, but it will in the .PDF - electronic - version. -Ed]

Editor's Corner – extra small

The universe seems to be transpiring against me; but I shall prevail (I hope). It's been a helluva week/month. Every time I started thinking about writing some reviews I either got a monstrous case of writer's block beyond saying, "it was good/okay/horrible", or I would find brilliant writing only to be rudely interrupted by some outside force (and not always my darling daughter); my dazzling rhetoric, lost.

Did that make up for it? Sigh. I thought not.

I promise in the June ish that there WILL be reviews. They may turn out to be badly written if I end up having to force myself to write them, intact brilliance or no. Maybe the powers that be will be kind and I'll put forth powerful, even riveting, reviews. Alas, I do not hold my breath; but that's mostly due to the fact that I need oxygen.

I am hoping that next ish will have more info on some Japanese holidays/customs, and possibly another interview. I got a couple peeps in mind.

I found Usagi's mini-comic hilarious. I love the puppet weapons. She told me later that she was glad I made her finish the darned thing. Bwaha! Be sure to read the titles of the books in the back-ground. They leave you feeling greatly amused since they pertain to what's going on.

Feel free to send in LoC's! Or any other fannish material pertaining to SF/F in Anime, Manga, and Other Comics! It'd be a nice gesture to let me know that you do appreciate my efforts, y0. Doom shakalaka Doom shakalaka Doom shakalaka laka DOOM.

Has anyone seen the new series Avatar: The Last Airbender on Nickelodian? It's really cool. I am a nanny for a 9 year old boy and the other day he was watching the first episode. I thought I would just read or something but it was so interesting I just had to watch it. Here is the blurb about the show from Nick.com

"Avatar: The Last Airbender

"Water. Earth. Fire. Air. Only the Avatar was the master of all four elements. Only he could stop the ruthless Fire Nation from conquering the world. But when the world needed him most, he disappeared. Until now . . . On the South Pole, a lone Water Tribe village struggles to survive. It's here that a young Waterbender named Katara and her warrior brother Sokka rescue a strange boy named Aang from a cavernous iceberg. Not only is Aang an Airbender--a race of people no one has seen in a century--but they soon discover that Aang is also the long lost Avatar. Now it's up to Katara and Sokka to make sure Aang faces his destiny to save the tribe--and himself. Did we mention he's only 12?"

It's important to note that in the beginning the Avatar was an adult male. When the Avatar is discovered again he has been reincarnated (as the previous Avatar was. The Avatar's Spirit continually lives on, born into another body.)

This show has all the cool action and special effects of a typical anime without the harsh edges. I love Aang's character. Aang brings a fun, youthful, innocence to the show which I enjoy, yet when the time comes to fight the Fire Nation he is just awesome. He's a boy who likes to have fun who is coming to terms with the knowledge that he is the Avatar - the only one who can unit the nations and bring peace back to the world. What the above blurb doesn't say is that Aang has a huge flying bison with six legs for a pet. So Aang, along with his friends Katara and Sokka, get to fly around on their furry friend. (Though Aang has been known to fly on an air bubble he creates.)

I'd highly recommend this show to anyone, especially those who are a little tired of the same old anime styles (as was the case with me).

How to join The MANGAVERSE

By Ruth R. Davidson

Two steps are required when joining The MANGAVERSE.

Step one: Join The National Fantasy Fan Federation (N3F or NFFF).

A membership form is available to you on the last page of this issue and on the web at <http://nfff.org>. The MANGAVERSE is run in affiliation with N3F, a science fiction and fantasy club founded in 1941.

Step two: email me after you complete step one.

After you email me, I will then confirm with the N3F secretary that you indeed accomplished step one. This is because depending on when you join it may be a while before you see the official publication of the N3F (which is quarterly), and you could miss out on stuff otherwise.

Step three: join in the fun!

After step one and two are completed, feel free to join right on in and submit some anime, manga, and/or comic fannish material to me for publication.

Happy reading! *big smile*

You can also join my related yahoogroup Science Fiction and Fantasy in Anime, Manga and Other Comics at SFFAMOC@yahoogroups.com.

You do not have to be a Neffer to join the yahoogroup.
