

National Fantasy Fan Federation

Special Publication

The attached is a special publication of the National Fantasy Fan Federation. Our bylaws specify that members are to be sent that Constitution, Bylaws, and Membership Roster of the N3F on a regular basis. We have been somewhat tardy in carrying out this requirement, so I am now paying catch-up.

All Regular (papermail), Electronic (email), Life, and Founding members of the N3F are receiving this document. If we had your email address, you have already been sent a copy of the Constitution and Bylaws electronically.

Reminders:

The deadline for material for the next issue of Tightbeam is the 20th of the month. Please get your material to the Tightbeam Editor, Bob Jennings, FabFicBks@aol.com ASAP. Material received after the deadline will be held over for the next issue.

We are still looking for someone with artistic talent to doctor slightly the current masters for the Kaymar and Franson Awards.

We are still looking for people who know something about wordpress to help David Speakman revive our web pages.

Fiction for Eldritch Science is always welcome.

The Ionisphere Editor, John Thiel
<kinethiel@comcast.net>

is always happy to receive Letters of Comment and related material for Ionisphere.

Those of you with short fiction, who are eligible to submit, are urged to submit your fiction to the short story contest. For full rules, see the August 2017 TNFF.
